

EL CERRITO FIREMAN OUSTED

Hot Words; Near Fist Fights Mark Disputes To Remove A. H. Byrd

WILLIAM PORTER NAMED TO FILL VACANCY; COUNCILMAN LEE CHARGES "POLITICS"

Following one of the hottest sessions of the El Cerrito City Council held last evening, during which charges and countercharges were flung by the various factions concerned, A. H. Byrd, engineer of the Fire Department, was ousted from office by the board after hearing charges of insubordination, inefficiency and failure to co-operate with his superior officer. William Porter was appointed to succeed him.

PETITION DENIED READING

This action was taken despite the fact that a petition of nearly 600 names asking that Byrd be retained as engineer had been filed with the city clerk and was refused a reading before the council by Mayor Lutz. Byrd declared that it was impossible for him to secure the names to the petition since he was unaware of the action brought against him until last Friday, the day following his regular day off. The petition, he stated, had been circulated by friends who wished to help him.

BYRD CHARGES "RIDING"

Byrd charges that recently after he had been seen talking with Councilman Phillip A. Lee, Fire Chief W. A. Hinds called him into the office and "rode" him, accusing him of trying to cause dissension. Byrd stated that he had merely asked Lee for additional help and declared that Hinds had said to him: "You don't know how close you came to losing your job."

Several clashes between Councilman Lee and Fire Chief W. A. Hinds occurred during the course of the charges. Hinds became angered at one point and said: "You don't amount to nothing as far as I'm concerned."

Hinds objected to the attitude of the spectators and asked Mayor Lutz to restrain them from making remarks. "They don't make remarks when he (Byrd) is talking and I'm just as good as he is," he declared.

HINDS BRINGS ACCUSATIONS

The charges were brought by Fire Chief Hinds and specific instances were mentioned by him to substantiate his claims. Byrd answered the charges and in turn called attention of the board to inefficient actions of the fire chief.

The council chambers were crowded with citizens, the majority of whom seemed to side with the engineer and Councilman Phil A. Lee who was outspoken in his defense of the engineer. Lee declared:

LEE HINTS "PLOT"

"It seems that because there is a friendship between me and Byrd they have turned against him. It's me and not Byrd they're trying to get. I knew that when this meeting was called that he would not get a fair trial and I feel that he is going to go."

"If Byrd is dismissed from here tonight, in six months he will have the place of this man (indicating Hinds)."

This was followed by a burst of applause from the spectators.

INSTANCES RECITED

One of the instances recited by Hinds in his charges was the fire at a sausage factory on San Pablo avenue last fall. He accused Byrd of inefficiency in coupling the lines and stated that Byrd had had instruction in the work. The Richmond fire department was called in to assist them in extinguishing the blaze.

Councilman Charles Zimmerman, fire commissioner of El Cerrito, told of another instance at a fire on Fink Lane and charged Byrd with talking while the firemen were waiting for water.

Byrd replied to the charges declaring that in the case mentioned by Zimmerman, he was inspecting the water tank at a fire and found that half the capacity had been used in fighting the blaze and that more water was needed. He filled the tank from a garden hose, he stated, and the work of extinguishing the blaze continued. Councilman Zimmerman took exception to his statement and said that he was near the tank at the time.

ANSWERS "FIRE CHARGE"

In the matter of the sausage factory, Byrd stated that he had received no instruction in coupling the house, prior to that time and that in the long run the

Improvement Of Dunn, Rheem Protested

There were two protest received by the council last evening against the improvement of Dunn and Rheem avenues and intersecting streets, but they were overruled.

The protests were not against the character of work done, nor that the work was not up to specifications, but on the ground that the cost was excessive.

Councilman Scott stated this was not a proper ground on which to protest, and his view was concurred in by the city attorney.

A motion that the protests be overruled was then made by Councilman Martin, and adopted by the unanimous vote of those present.

The question was raised as to what disposition will be made of the water unless a distribution system is acquired.

"The election of November 1 provides the answer," Morcom told them. "On that day the people will have an opportunity to say 'Yes' to a bond issue of $26,000,000 which will give the directors of the Utility District the alternative of buying the East Bay Water Company's plant or building a separate system."

THE FILE-GNAWERS

The performances of the enemies of order in Europe will probably have the effect of keeping at home considerable numbers of Americans, who would otherwise cross the Atlantic to spend millions. Some of the Americans will not for the present risk having their families exposed to insult and violence on the other side, small though the risk be.

Thus the European "proletariat" contributes to the strengthening of the resources of the American "bourgeoisie."

As heretofore pointed out, the excesses of the European "reds" will cause the stiffening of the American restrictions on immigration, which means of course, increasing wages for American labor and the emergence of more and more of its members into the ranks of the "bourgeoisie."

What gnawers of files these "reds" are!—Charleston News Courier.

A Chicago chef says that Americans eat the most but subsist of course on vulgar food like ham, eggs, beefsteak and French fried potatoes. It is our guess, however, that there are certain sections of Europe where this diet would be cordially received in spite of its "vulgarity." The thing to do of course is to adopt free trade standards so that our people can get better acquainted with the refining influence of soup.

Fanny Brice asks a divorce from her husband, Nicky Arnstein, because he did not like her remodeled nose. Maybe what he didn't like was the beauty specialists' bill which accompanied it.

Rabbi Wise, returning from abroad says that Europe is facing a crisis and wants America to help. Which is only another way of saying that conditions are normal across the Atlantic.

Three sets of fond Cleveland parents are indignant because they allege, their three babies were shuffled in a hospital there and ownership is in doubt. And this is one case where King Solomon's plan of determining ownership won't work.

The super-patriotism of the free trade internationalists is indicated by the glee which these newspapers are evidencing over the fact that France is giving Germany, her former enemy preferential tariff rates over America, her former ally.

As France takes only one per cent of America's exports while the United States takes ten per cent of France's total exports it is easy to see which nation is to be hurt most by any serious misunderstanding over tariff treaties.

How To Earn Money!

I live in a Southern city that has come to be quite a popular winter resort. I would like to earn some money, but am not gifted in any way. The only thing I can do well is plain sewing. Perhaps you could offer a suggestion that might put me on the right track.

RUBY L.

I know a woman in a Florida city who is earning a nice income supplying curtains, furniture covers, lamp shades, cushions and even table and bed linen to some of the hotels. In the beginning the designs and colors plans were supplied by the hotel management, but my friend proved so clever as an interior decorator, as well as a seamstress, that she now furnishes the ideas, as well as executes them. I mention this just as a suggestion to you. Even in long-established hotels these things have to be replenished constantly, and there is often a contract waiting for the woman who is enterprising enough to go after it.

What should I charge for mending and patching? CARRIE D.

Ordinary patching and darning brings about 35 cents an hour as a rule. For difficult mending, 50 cents to 75 cents an hour is the average price.

I contracted with a specialty shop to make one dozen baby caps. Now I find that I set my price too low, as they take longer to make than I had expected. I do not actually lose money on them, but I do not make as much as I expected to. Am I not justified in backing out? I have only six of the caps finished.

LAURA S.

It seems to me that even if you do feel justified in backing out you should make a special effort to live up to your contract. A reputation for reliability is one of the most valuable assets a woman in business can have. You can avoid the same mistake again but if I were you I would fill the contract on time and according to agreement.

I live on the ground floor of a large apartment house and am planning to open up a little art studio-work shop in my front room between now and Christmas. Will you please give me a list of articles that you consider valuable? No you think silk quilts would sell well?

MRS. LUCILE L.

You will find, I feel sure, that the small, inexpensive articles sell better around Christmas time than the more elaborate articles. Such articles as sash curtains, novelty bags, bridge sets, luncheon and breakfast sets, aprons, crib sets, etc., are always in demand around the holidays. I would not advise you to stock up on silk quilts. Just now there is a revival of the old fashioned patchwork quilt made of unbleached muslins and colored kinghams. These may be simple or as elaborate as the fancy dictates and need not be expensive. Crib quilts make up in this manner are always salable. Two or three hooked rugs would be a nice addition to your collection. A dainty little gift card attached to each article adds interest.

I work as a typist, but would like to earn a little money in the evenings and on Saturdays. I started to take a course in beauty culture, but had to stop when I was a little over half through. I learned manicuring, however, and a great many other things, and would like to put my knowledge to some use.

RENA.

Had you thought of doing manicuring and shampooing in the evenings either in your own home or in the homes of your customers? I know a girl who has built up a nice little business of this kind. In the beginning she gave shampoos and manicures. Then she finished her course and is now giving facials, etc. Her customers are busy women who do not find time to visit beauty parlors during the day.

What Your FACE TELLS

©c. 1927- by Betty Morrison PSYD.

HERE'S THE LOW DOWN ON "TOO MUCH LIP"

"Our thoughts and emotions are silently yet constantly chiseling our features," says a poet. How significant is that truth to the character analyst. Our thoughts, emotions are more wonderful sculptors than any who carve in marble.

We grow like the ideal or vision we keep before us. Do you admire strength? See that the impulses you yield to are those of strength not weakness. If the lines of your face tell the story of an easy yielding to temptation, remember that you are your own sculptor. You can strengthen your character and put strength into your face if you will.

The full protruding lower lip shows courage, resistance, pugnacity. It reveals muscular power. One may notice that when we clench our fists in anger we thrust our chins out. This is the expression of the fighter. We often see men of the prize ring have this protruding lip. This type of individual is pugnacious, revengeful, jealous, selfish and stubborn. He holds a grudge, and is very vindictive. He often "cuts off his nose to spite his face." Like many selfish people he lacks tact because he fails to see things from the point of view of another. This type is also very critical, enjoys searching for faults in others. He is easily offended and very often is misunderstood.

The Bully's Face

When the lower jaw and the lower lip are both thrust forward, especially when the lower lip just below the red part is full and prominent, the person is by nature a bully, abusive, with brutal tendencies.

Persons with this protruding lower lip would be more successful if they would learn to control their stubbornness and be more considerate of the feelings of others, make an effort to get the other fellow's point of view. Develop more tolerance and you will be happier with your relatives and friends.

Why not use one of these for you, evening gown? It should be sleeveless. The pointed neckline may be finished with a band of silver cloth. The garment should be simple of line, with soft cascade drapery of self-material lined with silver cloth at one side. The cost of this dress may be as low as $15. As to color, I believe you will find either shell pink or flame very becoming. If your skin is very fair, you might choose green.

Your coat may be of camel's hair, kasha or one of the pretty novelty woven fabrics in one of the smart shades of brown or wine. A fur collar is flattering and adds a richness to the garment. I believe you will find it more economical to buy than to make your coat.

Mrs. G: At a formal dinner the guest of honor, if a woman, is seated at the right of the host; if a man, at the right of the hostess. No rules are followed in seating the remaining guests, other than to alternate the sexes, if possible, and to try to seat together those who are congenial.

For your afternoon frock I would suggest satin in one of the mahogany tones. If you are slim, select a style with bloused bodice, long, close-fitting sleeves and a skirt with uneven hemline, achieved by means of circular panels or godets at side. A soft chiffon flower at shoulder will add a flattering note. This dress should not cost more than $15—that is, if you make it yourself.

Transparent and soft chiffon velvet are to be very popular, so

CUTEST THING BABY EVER SAID

During Capt. Lindbergh's welcome home celebration my little one, aged five, was watching an airplane making a smoke screen which was forming letters. Because it was windy the letters did not form very clearly and looked more like clouds. When the airplane completed and flew to another section, my little boy said, "Look, mother, that airplane has no more clouds, so it's going to scratch some more and then blow."

MRS. CONSTANCE

"Oh, dear," I sighed. "I hope the Joneses don't come over after all. I am awfully tired—we'll arrive early." And then the door bell, and Mr. and Mrs. Jones, apologizing for being a little late in coming.

"That's quite all right," I assured them. "I am awfully glad you did come, though." When my little Bobbie makes himself heard in this wise: "But mamma, didn't you say you hoped they wouldn't come and we'd all go to bed early?"

The coat-dress has returned to favor and is featured in many novel designs and fabrics. A pretty dress of this type is developed in terra cotta tweed mixture, with broad collar and flared skirt. The dress fastens at left side with large novelty buttons and a large pocket is placed high on the right side.

Drama Section Of Richmond Club Gives Clever Sketch

"Isle of Long Ago" was the entertainment given yesterday afternoon under the auspices of the Club. Mrs. W. R. Huston, chairman of the drama section, was in charge of the program, and her original sketch depicted an old-time afternoon meeting of a club group of gossiping women.

Mrs. Huston, in powdered wig and dainty costume, gave a prelude in verse to the entertainment. This was followed by old songs by Mrs. R. M. Fahrenholtz, accompanied by E. Esola. Esola also played the accompaniment for the Minuet performed by Miss Katherine Fahrenholtz.

The sketch was opened by a monologue by little Miss Lois Albert, a pupil of Mrs. Huston, after which the gathering on the stage was called to order by Mrs. J. T. Conwell, president of the Ladies Aid. Mrs. Huston acted as hostess, and other characters in the play were: Missionary agent, Mrs. Charles De Shields; Ladies Aid, Mrs. Cummings, Mrs. C. C. Holbrook, Mrs. E. J. Tarr, Mrs. Nellie Lambrecht, Mrs. R. G. Lee, Mrs. Bell, Mrs. E. E. O'Brien and Mrs. W. W. Chapin, and Mrs. C. M. McCullough.

Some of the costumes worn by the actors were over 100 years old. Mrs. Mary Slattery, a member of the Richmond club, supplied some of the dresses from her collection.

Tea was served following the program with Mrs. Marie Ogden as hostess assisted by Mrs. Florence Schramm. The refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mrs. Ethel Butler, Mrs. Caroline Rogers, Mrs. W. J. Congdon.

Among the announcements for the week, made by Mrs. S. B. Wilson, president of Richmond club, is the board meeting to be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock. The drama section will meet at the home of the director, Mrs. R. Robinson this morning at 10 o'clock. There will be no meeting of the drama section this week, according to the announcement of Mrs. Huston.

The civic section will meet on Friday afternoon at the home of the chairman, Mrs. C. C. Kratzer. The navy department will be the topic for discussion.

Postmaster J. N. Long will speak before the Richmond club next Monday, when he will explain the postoffice routine. Plans are to be made for a tour through the postoffice for the clubwomen and guests, and those intending to take the tour are asked to communicate immediately with Mrs. Kratzer.

The length of this piece, 15 minutes, and the scores were in their minds, which had not arrived. They played it from memory. ## "METROPOLIS"

HOLDS BOARDS AT CALIFORNIA

"Metropolis" Paramount's importation which came to the California theatre last night is hereby recommended to those who take their cinema seriously. Others will like it too but "Metropolis" holds special appeal for the rapidly growing group known as the motion picture intelligentsia.

Fritz Lang and his UFA associates have made a picture which deserves nothing less than the appellation "cinematheque." That one word describes it better than a thousand superlatives. Needless to say, it is deserving of them all. Amazing, impossible, wonderful, unbelievable—all these and many more could very well be applied to this furthermost step of that facile instrument known as the motion picture camera.

As for the story "Metropolis" takes us far into the future. We see a city such as one might imagine as existing a thousand years from now. Skyscrapers reach toward the heavens. Airplanes fly through steel canyons. Everything is luxurious. Then, we are taken deep down into the earth where workmen slave away at the machines which generate the power needed in the city above. Still further down, in the very bowels of the earth, lie the workmen's homes. The son of Metropolis' richest citizen falls in love with a worker's daughter and he learns the way his father's employees are forced to spend their lives. Into this hectic existence comes a soulless automaton, a servant of John Masterman, who advises the workers to revolt. What happens when the workers leave their machines can not be described.

It simply must be seen!

A uniformly fine cast of UFA players enact the leading roles.

Brigitte Helm, Gustav Froelich, Alfred Abel and Rudolph Klein-

Rogge are all seen to advantage.

Channing Pollock Americanized "Metropolis" by adapting and titling it for local consumption. Here is one picture which film fans can't afford to miss!

Other features include "Drama de Luxe," a Lupino Lane comedy; "Topics of the Day"; and Larry Canelo, at the organ.

"DEMI-BRIDE"

NOW SHOWING AT RICHMOND

"The Demi-Bride" starring Norma Shearer with Lew Cody, proves to be one of the really uproarious comedies of the season, laugh piling up on the laugh, each a little better than the last.

The picture, a Metro-Goldwyn-mayer production directed by Robert Z. Leonard, opened yesterday at the Richmond theatre to a capacity audience of Shearer and Cody fans. That the picture will prove a great drawing card was indicated by the manner in which it was received.

The picture opens with Norma as a student at a French boarding school and keeps her as a naive and almost childlike person throughout its entirety. In fact, it is this naive quality on which the entire play was built by F. Hugh Herbert and Florence Ryerson.

Carmel Myers handles the role of the Viennese stepmother in a most satisfactory manner, her subtlety and sophistication standing out in contrast to the innocence of the daughter.

Dorothy Sebastian, in the role of a girl from the Follies Burlesque, adds quite a lot of laughs and suspense to the picture. Lionel Belmore, as the husband, and Tenen Holtz, as the valet, proved great support to Miss Shearer and Cody, who have given one of the really great performances of their careers.

Other film features include "Snookums Outing," a comedy scream; "Topics of the Day" and "Aesop's Fables."

"Jack Won Bout," Is Verdict Of Richmondites

Jack Dempsey won the heavy-weight championship from Gene Tunney, according to Bert Curry and Edward Weizler, who have returned to Richmond from Chicago where they witnessed Tex Rickard's long-distant fight.

"Ground Rules" Prevent Sannies From Winning Game

The Sannies were defeated by the San Mateo baseball team, winners of 25 games straight, but Phil Jones' game feel that they were robbed of the game. They were beaten by a score of three to two because of ground rules.

"And there were no ground rules batted," said the irate Phil last night.

"It was this way. They have a bunch of trees in the outfield and their ground rules state that when a ball strikes a tree it is in play. Hansen snagged a long fly out in left field and the umpire declared that it hit a tree."

"Well our team figured it was the third out and came off the field. And one of their men came in for another run. If it hit the tree, it would have been different. But he caught it before it got near the tree."

Then there was that backstop which Phil avers is fully thirty feet from the home plate. Moss let one slip and it rolled against the backstop. The umpire mentioned the San Mateo come in, as there is a rule providing that a runner advances one base if the ball hits the backstop.

The Sannies took the lead in the first inning. Daley knocked a double and scored when Lane clouted a four-sacker over a right field fence. Greathouse also got a double-bagger.

The San Mateans like the playing of the Sannies and have invited them to come back for another game.

ALIMENTS OF THE HEART QUICKLY RELIEVED

Taft, Calif. April 19, 1927, Fong Wan Herb Co., Oakland, Calif.
Gentlemen,
I suffered from leakage of the Heart, Enlargement, Pain and High Blood Pressure. The pain extended to my back and left arm. I tried many local physicians, but found no relief at all. After I had seen your advertisement about overcoming Heart Trouble I decided to write to you for Herbs. Your Herb treatment is indeed wonderful. When I had finished taking a four-week supply of the herbs, all my pain had left me. You deserve unstinted praise for what you have done for me. I shall continue to take the herbs until I am certain that I have completely recovered and am sound and healthy in every respect.

HUGE INCREASE IN CARQUINEZ TRAFFIC SHOWN

New evidence of the tremendous growth of highway traffic in the San Francisco Bay region is contained in the comparative traffic and earnings statements of the American Toll Bridge Company's Carquinez and Antioch bridges for the three months ended September 30, 1927.

The two bridges in this period carried 387,630 vehicles and 1,025,541 passengers, an increase of more than 40 per cent in the number of vehicles and of approximately 42 per cent in passengers over the number carried by the Rodeo-Vallejo ferry and Antioch bridge in July, August and September of 1926.

Gross receipts for the same period were $337,850, an increase of $134,540, or approximately 40 per cent over the corresponding period of 1926.

The showing made by the Carquinez bridge is particularly interesting. Receipts from that important new traffic link for the three months totaled $299,200, which was earned by transporting 341,524 vehicles and 915,536 passengers. The increase in receipts over those of the ferry for the same quarter in 1926 was $137,000; the gain in traffic was 145,000 vehicles and 409,700 passengers.

In the same period the Antioch bridge earned $38,650 from 46,156 vehicles and 110,000 passengers.

Receipts were not quite up to those of 1926, but this is accounted for by the fact that toll rates were 25 per cent higher in 1926. The traffic increase in 1927 over 1926 was 7,870 vehicles and 15,600 passengers.

The effect of new highways on traffic is evidenced by the steady increase in traffic over the Antioch bridge each month since the completion of the road on Sherman Island in July, August showing an increase of 11 per cent over July as regards both vehicles and passengers, and September showing an increase over August of 15 per cent in vehicles and 25 per cent in passengers.

Hot Words, Near Fist Fights Mark Dispute To Remove A. H. Byrd

coupling proved efficient as the Richmond fire department made use of the connections when they arrived.

SESSION STORMY
The session was stormy from the beginning. The spectators did not miss an opportunity to applaud whenever Byrd seemed to be getting the upper hand and hissed the statements of those opposed.

Councilman Zimmerman introduced the motion for the dismissal of Byrd declaring: "It is evident that there is dissension between the two. I make the motion that Engineer Byrd be dismissed." The motion was seconded by Councilman Frank McDermott and the spectators made a series of cat calls.

LEE SCORES COUNCIL
Before the vote was taken on the matter, Councilman Lee jumped to his feet and strongly scored the members of the council. He said that he knew before coming to the meeting what the final result would be.

Further discussion was cut short and the vote was called for with Councilman Lee and George Conlan voting against dismissal and Council Lutz, Zimmerman, and McDermott voting to oust Byrd.

PORTER SUCCEEDS BYRD
Upon the recommendation of Fire Chief Hinds, the name of William Porter, a member of the volunteer fire department, to succeed Byrd was placed before the board. Objections to Porter were made by Lee on the grounds that Porter is not a taxpayer. Chief Hinds declared that there was no member of the fire department a taxpayer that he could recommend for the position. Porter was finally granted the position by

Rev. Greenlee Leaves Pulpit Here To Rev. G. W. Foreman

Protestant church, the pulpit of which Rev. Greenlee is to fill. The church and the congregation are also much larger than those in Richmond.

Rev. Greenlee will preach his last sermon next Sunday, and will leave Richmond the early part of that week to assume his duties in Lincoln. He has served here for the past four years, and has been instrumental in doing much to improve the church.

REGRETS TO LEAVE
"I regret that I must leave my many friends in Richmond," Rev. Greenlee said yesterday. "These past four years have been of the happiest in the lives of Mrs. Greenlee and myself. I shall be glad to see all the friends of the church and myself at the services next Sunday over which I will preside for the last time."

"The reports at the conference were unanimously encouraging, and a great increase in membership and a rejuvenation of Christian ideals was evident in the reports of the many pastors who were present."

Pittsburg Columbus Day Fete Closed

PITTSBURG, Oct. 10. — Pittsburg's third annual Columbus Day celebration ended last night after two days of merry-making, athletic contests, fireworks, oratory, dancing and a four-mile long parade.

The observance was declared and have been the best attended and most successful of any in the city's history. Several thousand visitors including practically the full membership of the Point Richmond Aerle of Eagles from neighboring communities and the bay cities were numbered among the local residents who thronged the streets.

Outstanding among the lengthy program of events was the parade yesterday that contained in its line of march scores of entries representing fraternal and civic organizations from many cities, drill teams, floats and decorated cars.

Lieutenant-Governor Burton, who arrived in an airplane from Los Angeles, addressed the crowds on Columbus Day on Americanism. Gaston Bertini spoke in Italian.

Missing El Cerrito Boys Are Hunted

Believing that Raymond Smith, 14, and Leon Pratt, 1, both of El Cerrito have run away from home, the police authorities of El Cerrito and Contra Costa county have begun a search for the missing boys. The boys failed to return Sunday night and their parents notified the police. The sheriff's office has also been notified.

Distribution Made In Weisser Estate

By order of the Superior Court the estate of the late Mrs. Cora Weisser, of Richmond, was yesterday distributed to her husband, William E. Weisser, and two nephews. The estate consists of two pieces of property on San Pablo avenue and on Eighth street, Clare D. Horner, represented the estate.

IT WON'T BE LONG NOW

A marriage license application was filed in Oakland by John O. Dahl of Richmond and Matilda Ortille of Oakland. Dahl is a contractor here and makes his home at 126 Ohio avenue.

Three Millions Saving Money

Six years ago 1,771,574 persons had savings accounts in California banks. On June 30, 1927, the number increased to 3,069,464 and the aggregate deposits totaled $1,698,729,000—average of $553. Official figures further show that 620 persons out of every thousand are now saving money, whereas in 1921 only 469 out of every thousand were saving.

The statistics prove that a very large number of persons have not found it difficult to save. On the contrary, it is easy to accumulate funds. A one-dollar bill, for example, will open a saving account in any office or branch of the American Trust Company, and the deposits will earn four per cent interest, compounded semi-annually.
